

Tammy Drake, MBA

Bio

Tammy Drake is a Lecturer in the College of Business at California State University, Sacramento in the Management & Organizations Department. Tammy received her BBA- Marketing from Florida Atlantic University and her MBA-Strategic Leadership from Amberton University in Dallas, Texas. Tammy has professional industry experience in both management and marketing roles. Some of her titles include National Brokerage Specialist for a Fortune 500 company, where she managed large customer accounts across the United States, and Project Manager in which she coordinated and executed large projects for a manufacturing firm. Tammy enjoys working with others to facilitate success in the workplace and has over a decade of experience managing and training employees.

Professionally speaking, Tammy's greatest passion is teaching higher education! She especially enjoys teaching Business Communications, Management and Marketing. In addition to teaching for Sac State, she is an adjunct Professor at Sierra College where she serves on the Educational Effectiveness Committee and works to assess student learning outcomes across multiple departments.