Course Learning Outcomes:

GRADUATE

Mastery of each student-learning outcome listed below is indicated by a grade of B or better on each component of the corresponding measures listed in the table. Students are required to track their progress towards meeting each learning outcome and must make an appointment with the instructor for any grade equal to or less than a B. The instructor will suggest strategies to help you establish competence and knowledge in these areas.

Students should track their progress towards meeting each learning outcome by listing their grades on the table below over the course of the semester.

CSAD 219 SPECIFIC STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES:

1. Discuss specific strategies for effectively counseling and interviewing persons with a wide range of communication disorders such as (but not limited to) autism, child language and articulatory-phonological disorders, neurological impairment secondary to stroke and TBI in adults, and others.
2. Describe specific strategies for developing effective professional relationships with clients, caregivers, and other professionals.
3. Identify professional communication skills that facilitate effective relationships with clients, caregivers, and other professionals.
4. List and describe skills necessary for interacting effectively as members of teams (e.g., teams in public schools, medical facilities) that work with clients and their families who need counseling services.
5. Demonstrate awareness of, sensitivity to, and specific strategies for interviewing and counseling clients from multicultural backgrounds.
6. Demonstrate knowledge of gender differences in communication, how these differences impact interviewing and counseling in communicative disorders, and specific strategies for effective cross-gender communication.
7. Increase their knowledge about and specific strategies for counseling with specific populations, including but not limited to geriatric patients, patients with neurological disorders, children from backgrounds of abuse/violence, families of children with special needs, and others.
8. Discuss and analyze significant current research literature in interviewing and counseling, critically evaluating this literature and its application to specific counseling and interviewing situations with a variety of clients.
9. Be exposed to a variety of points of view and approaches to interviewing and counseling. This will occur through a combination of exposure to the textbooks, the instructor's personal clinical experiences, and exposure to a variety of guest speakers from similar and different fields who work with various populations.
10. Recognize the need for participation in professional activities that promote lifelong learning of strategies for successful counseling and interviewing with a wide variety of individuals with communication disorders and their families.

Recommended Materials:

- 3-ring binder, with dividers, if desired

Electronic requirements:

- Internet connection (DSL, LAN, or cable connection desirable)
- Flashdrive or other way to save documents/resources electronically, rather than via hard copy
- Access to Canvas Web site
- Access to a computer and printer, if desired

Online Resources: See CANVAS

Course Requirements/Components:

COURSE STRUCTURE: This course will incorporate a variety of in-class learning experiences including direction instruction/lecture, interprofessional guest presentations, active learning activities, small/whole group discussions, case studies, role-play scenarios, and multimedia viewing. Due to the depth of the course content, students will be assigned weekly readings to be completed before the class meeting. All assignments and activities are carefully administered for the purpose of enhancing student learning.

EXPECTATIONS: Cell phones and Pagers. Cell phones are to be turned off throughout the class period. Electronic devices will be used to access posted Bb resources or documents. Checking email and other non-course online activities are not acceptable.

Behavior. Students who have trouble keeping up with the assignments or other aspects of the course, should communicate these challenges to the instructor as soon as possible. Building rapport and effective relationships are key to becoming an effective professional. Be proactive and inform the instructor when any difficulties arise during the semester so possible solutions can be identified. The syllabus, outlines of class topics, and other info will be posted on CANVAS in Course Content. Some readings, materials, and other posted information will be removed no earlier than 2 weeks after original posting, but may be available on-line indefinitely. Students are encouraged to read and/or copy the material when it is posted. In addition, it is recommended that students:

1. Retrieve the outline/readings from CANVAS when it is posted.
2. Read the text ahead of class to correlate readings with information that will be presented in lecture to reinforce learning.
3. Take notes in class and later rewrite and organize them using the outline as a guide or rewrite and reorganize them as personally needed for understanding.
4. Create and participate in study groups throughout the semester.

Note: The content and discussion in this course will necessarily engage with sensitive topics and issues every week. Much of it will be emotionally and intellectually challenging to engage with. I acknowledge that each of you comes to the CSUS CSAD graduate program with your own unique life experiences. This contributes to the way you perceive various types of information. In CSAD 219, all of the class content, including that which may be intellectually or emotionally challenging, has been intentionally curated to achieve the learning goals for this course. The decision to include such material is not taken lightly. These topics include trauma, racism, life-altering events such as stroke, traumatic brain injury, and more. If you encounter a topic that is challenging for you, it can manifest in feelings of discomfort and upset. In response, I encourage you to come talk to me or your friends or family about it. Remember that there are services at The Well that are available to you too. Class topics are discussed for the sole purpose of expanding your intellectual engagement in the area of infusing a counseling approach to all those that we serve as speech-language pathologists. We will support our individual and collective learning throughout this course. To that end, we will create and maintain a space where we can engage bravely, empathetically, and thoughtfully with often-difficult content every week.

Graded Course Activities. According to the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders Graduate Admissions Policy, Procedures and Practices, students failing to maintain a GPA of 3.00 are automatically placed on academic probation. Because graduate students need a grade of “B” to pass graduate coursework other than clinics, they should seek advising for grades equal to or less than “B.” Students should, therefore, should track their progress towards meeting each learning outcome by listing their grades on the table listed above over the course of the semester. The instructor will use a variety of activities and strategies to ensure maximizing students’ opportunities to learn and to integrate information presented in this course. Assessment data from these activities will used to evaluate students’ mastery of each learning outcome and the assignment of an earned grade.

Assignments. All assignments must be completed and turned in during class, on time, and in the correct form. Late assignments, those in an incorrect form, or e-mailed assignments will receive no credit accepted without a serious and compelling reason and/or doctor’s note and instructor approval. Special circumstances will be allowed for rescheduling or make-ups given the following: (a) a compelling and/or documented medical issue and (b) instructor approval. Late or missing assignments will negatively affect the student’s grade.

Attendance/Participation. This course involves verbal interaction among the students and the instructor. You cannot really “get” what was covered in class via classmates’ notes. Class attendance is required and roll will be taken in the first 10 minutes of each class session. This course involves verbal interaction/discussion among the students, the instructor, and possible guest presenters. You cannot really “get” what was covered in class via classmates’ notes. Students should report absences or late arrivals (due to emergency and/or medical issues only) to the instructor in person or via voice mail or email prior to class meeting (not via text messages). TWO (2) unexcused absences may result in your final grade dropping one letter grade. Successful completion of a graduate internship or working as a speech-language pathologist requires being present, arriving on time, and being prepared. Practicing those skills now will prepare you for the expectations of this career. If you do need to miss a class, you are responsible for all materials covered in your absence. This means you must get any materials handed out during your missed session from a classmate. Working as a Speech-Language Pathologist requires being present, on time, and prepared. Practicing those skills now will prepare you for what this career will be like. If you do need to miss a class, you are responsible for all materials covered in your absence. This means you must get any materials handed out during your missed session from a classmate, not the instructor.

Examinations. Two examinations and one final will be administered. The culminating experience for this course is the group project and presentation. The format of each exam will be announced in class. You are responsible for contacting the professor to take any makeup exam. On each exam, you will be asked about any guest speaker, lectures, videos, or other additional content that we have been exposed to in class. As stated earlier, you are strongly encouraged to read each day's assignments BEFORE class and ask questions about any material you do not understand. Embedded a counseling approach to all of our clinical responsibilities and work-related interactions is imperative for success! To that end, possible guest speakers for this semester may include but are not limited to Celeste Roseberry-McKibbin (forensics), Sarah Reed (Social Work/Trauma Informed Care), James Rosenheim (Marriage and Family Counselor), Tasha Ketphanh (SLP/cultural competence), Kathleen Abendroth (supporting teens with ADHD and ASD), and Brittany Hage-Langevin (Nursing/Palliative Care).

Additional Information

Commitment to Integrity:

As a student in this course (and at this university) you are expected to maintain high degrees of professionalism, commitment to active learning and participation in this class and also integrity in your behavior in and out of the classroom.

Sac State's Academic Honesty Policy & Procedures:

“The principles of truth and honesty are recognized as fundamental to a community of scholars and teachers. California State University, Sacramento expects that both faculty and students will honor these principles, and in so doing, will protect the integrity of academic work and student grades.” Read more about Sac State's Academic Honesty Policy & Procedures at the following website: <https://www.csus.edu/umannual/student/stu-100.htm>

Definitions: At Sac State, “cheating is the act of obtaining or attempting to obtain credit for academic work through the use of any dishonest, deceptive, or fraudulent means.” Plagiarism is a form of cheating. At Sac State, “plagiarism is the use of distinctive ideas or works belonging to another person without providing adequate acknowledgement of that person's contribution.” Source: Sacramento State University Library Note: Any form of academic dishonesty, including cheating and plagiarism, shall be reported to the Office of Student Conduct.

Department Policy on Use of APA format:

The Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders requires the use of the APA format and style. All students are required to reference the APA manual. All assignments are to be composed using APA format and style unless otherwise noted.

Understand When You May Drop This Course:

It is the student's responsibility to understand when he/she need to consider disenrolling from a course. Refer to the Sac State Course Schedule for dates and deadlines for registration. After this period, a serious and compelling reason is required to drop from the course. Serious and compelling reasons include: (a) documented and significant change in work hours, leaving student unable to attend class, or (b) documented and severe physical/mental illness/injury to the student or student's family. Under emergency/special circumstances, students may petition for an incomplete grade. An incomplete will only be assigned if there is a compelling extenuating circumstance. All incomplete course assignments must be completed by the department's policy.

Inclusivity:

Students in this class are encouraged to be active participants in all aspects of the course, including but not limited to lectures, synchronous and asynchronous activities, discussion posts, etc. Each of us must show respect for each other, as our class represents a diversity of beliefs, backgrounds, and experiences. This enriches all of our learning experiences together. Our individual differences deepen our understanding of one another and the world around us, rather than divide us. In this class, people of all ethnicities, genders and gender identities, religions, ages, sexual orientations, disabilities, socioeconomic backgrounds, regions, and nationalities are strongly encouraged to share their rich array of perspectives and experiences. If you feel your differences may in some way isolate you from our classroom community, or if you have a specific need, please contact the instructor early in the semester. Your instructor will work with you to ensure that you become an active and engaged member of our class and community.
