

Interprofessional Education Workshop: Palliative Care/End-of-Life
Saturday, November 18, 2017
8:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Folsom Hall #1029/1033
Guest Speaker: Dr. Pourias Kashkouli

Pouria Kashkouli M.D., FACP
Palliative Care Specialist
Associate Clinical Professor
Hospital Medicine & Palliative Care
University California Davis Medical Center
4150 V Street Suite 3400
Sacramento, CA 95817

Dr. Pouria Kashkouli is an Internal Medicine Specialist in Sacramento, California. He graduated with honors in 2004 and has more than 13 years of experience including internal medicine, hospice, and palliative care. Dr. Kashkouli is affiliated with the University Of California Davis Medical Center, and collaborates with other professionals and specialists with Regents Of The University Of California.

The CSUS CHHS IPE Center for Innovative Teaching and Learning is proud to present the 2nd Annual Interprofessional Education Workshop on palliative care and end-of-life issues integrating students from a variety of disciplines including nursing, pharmacy, medicine, social work and speech-language pathology.

Please note: Seating is limited.

Interprofessional Education Workshop: Palliative Care/End-of-Life
Saturday, May 4, 2019
8:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Folsom Hall #1029/1033
Guest Speaker: Dr. Pourias Kashkouli

Pouria Kashkouli M.D., FACP
Palliative Care Specialist
Associate Clinical Professor
Hospital Medicine & Palliative Care
University California Davis Medical Center
4150 V Street Suite 3400
Sacramento, CA 95817

Dr. Pouria Kashkouli is an Internal Medicine Specialist in Sacramento, California. He graduated with honors in 2004 and has more than 13 years of experience including internal medicine, hospice, and palliative care. Dr. Kashkouli is affiliated with the University Of California Davis Medical Center, and collaborates with other professionals and specialists with Regents Of The University Of California.

The CSUS CHHS IPE Center for Innovative Teaching and Learning is proud to present the Semi-Annual Interprofessional Education Workshop on palliative care and end-of-life issues integrating students from a variety of disciplines including nursing, pharmacy, medicine, social work and speech-language pathology.

For nursing students, please contact Dr. Nouredine directly

For SLP or other discipline students, please contact Dr. Hagge (hagge@csus.edu)

Please note: Seating is limited.

The CSUS CHHS
Interprofessional Center

for Innovative Teaching &
Learning presents

Interprofessional Education: Pharmacology, Pain and Medication Effects

Interprofessional communication, ethical practice, understanding roles, and teamwork serve as the four key domains for clinical practice excellence. Engaging in interprofessional practice models reduce errors, improve satisfaction, and make healthcare more cost effective. This workshop will serve to bring together student professionals from speech language pathology, pharmacy, nursing, physical therapy, and social work to problem solve common clinical case scenarios best addressed by an interprofessional team.

Dr. Ofstad serves as the Assistant Dean for Education at California Health Sciences University, focused on faculty development and mentorship in team-based learning in California's Central Valley. His primary research focus is in teaching and learning including team-based learning, team building, simulation, and interprofessional education. He also practices as a clinical pharmacist at UC Davis Medical Center providing direct patient care for diabetes and anticoagulation and mentoring residents and students in primary care settings. He is a co-founder of the California Interprofessional Education Research Academy (CA-IPERA).

Saturday, April 1, 2017

1:00 – 5:00 p.m.

California State University Sacramento
Folsom Hall, Rooms #1029-#1033

To RSVP or Questions, please contact:

Dr. Darla K. Hagge Ph.D., CCC-SLP

Co-Director, CSUS CHHS Interprofessional Center for Innovative Teaching &
Learning

The CSUS CHHS
Interprofessional Education Center (IPE)
for
Innovative Teaching & Learning presents

Interprofessional Education: Pharmacology, Pain and Medication Effects

Interprofessional communication, ethical practice, understanding roles, and teamwork serve as the four key domains for clinical practice excellence. Engaging in interprofessional practice models reduce errors, improve satisfaction, and make healthcare more cost effective. This workshop will serve to bring together student professionals from speech language pathology, pharmacy, nursing, physical therapy, and social work to problem solve common clinical case scenarios best addressed by an interprofessional team.

Dr. Ofstad serves as the Assistant Dean for Education at California Health Sciences University, focused on faculty development and mentorship in team-based learning in California's Central Valley. His primary research focus is in teaching and learning including team-based learning, team building, simulation, and interprofessional education. He also practices as a clinical pharmacist at UC Davis Medical Center providing direct patient care for diabetes and anticoagulation and mentoring residents and students in primary care settings. He is a co-founder of the California Interprofessional Education Research Academy (CA-IPERA).

Saturday, April 1, 2017

1:00 – 5:00 p.m.

California State University Sacramento
Folsom Hall, Rooms #1029-#1033

To RSVP or questions, please contact:

Dr. Darla K. Hagge Ph.D., CCC-SLP, hagge@csus.edu

Co-Director, CSUS CHHS Interprofessional Center for Innovative Teaching & Learning

