What is an Associate Safety and Health Manager?

Young professionals can put their career in EHS management on the fast-track by earning IHMM's Associate Safety and Health Manager (ASHM™) credential. There is no exam requirement and no application fee for graduates who apply within six months of graduation.

The ASHM designation is an important stepping stone to the accredited CSHM certification. Students earning a Bachelor's degree from an accredited institution only have to demonstrate two years of experience, instead of four, to sit for the CSHM exam.

With the ASHM on your resume, you tell employers you are serious about a career in EHS management.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

A Bachelor's degree or higher from an accredited college or university that is on the IHMM ABET schools list or has been approved by IHMM as an ASHM participating institution.
