THE PLANETARIUM AT SACRAMENTO STATE
OPENS FALL 2019

BECOME A SEAT DONOR AT THE NEW PLANETARIUM

In fall of 2019, Sacramento State will open the Ernest E. Tschannen Science Complex. This is the only such facility within 90 miles featuring a state-of-the-art planetarium and observatory with retractable roof. This is your opportunity to be a part of a destination sure to inspire an estimated 15,000 visitors per year including Sacramento State students, schoolchildren, and the general public.

Enhance STEM education for decades to come with a $1,000 contribution to name a seat in the new planetarium.

The 120 seats will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis starting with the front row and moving back. Shaded seats will be named last.

- Donor plates will remain on the seat throughout the seat's lifetime*
- Your contribution will fund planetarium operations and help to build an endowment to support ongoing programming
- Share the wonders of astronomy and science with new generations
