

The Committee for Anti-Racism, Diversity, and Inclusion (CARDI) invites you to a Town Hall Discussion on fighting racism and building an equitable, inclusive, actively anti-racist Anthropology Department. All students, faculty, staff, alumni and community are welcome to participate, as we brainstorm and build collective power to enact our department's Anti-Racism Action Plan. In the spirit of decolonization, the Town Hall will be held on Monday, Oct. 12, 12-1 pm, Indigenous People's Day. Join Town Hall Discussion HERE

A photograph of a brown bulletin board. On the board, there is a white sign with black text. To the right of the sign is a framed black and white portrait of a man with glasses. The text on the sign reads: "The Department of Anthropology's Committee for Anti-Racism, Diversity, and Inclusion (CARDI) invite you to a Town Hall Discussion. How can we increase equity, build diversity, and more actively fight racism in our department and field? Join us as we honor Indigenous People's Day and strategize on decolonizing anthropology. Monday, Oct 12, 2020 Indigenous People's Day 12-1 pm, Zoom. Students, staff, faculty, alumni, community: all are welcome!"

The Department of Anthropology's Committee for Anti-Racism, Diversity, and Inclusion (CARDI) invite you to a Town Hall Discussion*

How can we increase equity, build diversity, and more actively fight racism in our department and field? Join us as we honor Indigenous People's Day and strategize on decolonizing anthropology.*

Monday, Oct 12, 2020
Indigenous People's Day
12-1 pm, Zoom

Students, staff, faculty, alumni, community: all are welcome!

For more information, feel free to contact Megan Raschig, CARDI Chair
megan.raschig@csus.edu