

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

Dr. Jioni Lewis, an expert on the psychology of race and racism, will present her work on interpersonal racism and microaggressions in higher education. Dr. Lewis will highlight various manifestations of racism and microaggressions, discuss the impact of microaggressions on the mental health and well-being of students of color, as well as share resilience strategies and new approaches for radical healing.

csus.edu/psyc

BIPOC SPEAKER SERIES PRESENTED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

Radical Healing for Students of Color: How to Survive and Thrive in the Face of Systemic Racism

Jioni Lewis, Ph.D.
Associate Professor
Counseling Psychology
University of Maryland

Wednesday, April 7, 2021
2-3:30pm

RSVP at <https://tinyurl.com/yhzej5jyh>

Contact info: Greg Kim-Ju • kimju@csus.edu • 916.278.6738