Want to Build Academic and Professional Success?

Peer Mentoring in Sociology helps students meet their goals for academic success and timely graduation. Whether one is a mentor (an individual who provides supportive guidance while learning alongside another) or mentee (an individual who is new to Sacramento State and/or the Sociology Major), this mentoring program provides an opportunity:

- To learn about our campus community,
- Gain experience in leadership, interpersonal communication skills, and helping others reach their academic goals.
- Become acquainted with other majors and faculty in the Sociology Department, and
- Build productive relationships that can support academic and professional success.

Peer Mentoring in Sociology is offered as a one-unit class (SOC193A) for mentees and two-unit class for mentors (SOC193B, which requires faculty permission). If you are interested in gaining and providing support from sociology peers and faculty, this may be a great opportunity for you.

BECOME A MENTOR

Or A MENTEE

- The class meets on Wednesdays 11 AM- 11:50 AM (through Zoom and in-person)
- To enroll in SOC 193A you can register through your “My SacState”
- To enroll in SOC 193B, you must have been enrolled at Sac State for at least two semesters, have a minimum GPA of 2.8, a letter/email of reference from an instructor at Sac State and connect with Dr. Welkley via Zoom
