The IDEA Program - Spring 2021
Application Guidelines

This program is jointly funded by the Offices of Research, Innovation, and Economic Development and University Enterprises, Inc.

The purpose of The Incentive for Developing External Awards (IDEA) Program is to provide an incentive to individual faculty members to write a competitive grant proposal for external funding to further their research, scholarly and/or creative activity at Sacramento State.

Application Requirements

To apply, faculty members must identify one specific grant solicitation or formal request for proposals to which they are interested in submitting a proposal. For this cycle, the submission deadline or target date must be between August 1, 2021-January 31, 2022.

Applicants must submit an internal application via InfoReady Review describing their selected external grant program. They should demonstrate that the proposed project:

1) is in alignment with the funding opportunity’s goals and guidelines. Because fit with the funder’s goals and guidelines is critical for any successful grant proposal, applicants should carefully select only one proposed funding source considering program goals, eligibility, funding limits and other requirements detailed in the guidelines. Applicants are strongly encouraged to connect with the Program Officer at the external funding agency well in advance of submitting an IDEA application to confirm if the project fits with funder goals.

and

2) will have a substantial impact on their research, scholarly and/or creative agenda. Applicants should also consider their readiness to complete the proposal, including: completion of preliminary research, workload and timeline for submission, and qualifications in terms of project scope and size.

Applications may be submitted for individual or collaborative projects in which a PI from Sacramento State is the project lead.

Deadline to Apply: Friday, April 30th by 5pm.

Eligibility

Open to all tenured and tenure-track faculty, and lecturers with multi-year appointments of at least 0.5 time base. The selection process will prioritize applicants with less experience serving as a faculty principal investigator (PI/Co-PI) on an externally funded research project, according to the following criteria:
1. Probationary faculty who do not have previous experience
2. Tenured faculty who do not have previous experience
3. Probationary faculty who have previous experience
4. Tenured faculty who have previous experience
5. Lecturers with multi-year appointments of at least 0.5 time base.

Applicants who have already received more than two IDEA/FRIG awards will be considered as funding is available.

Past incentive award recipients may not reapply until they have received notification from the funder on the outcome of that submission.

Award Information

Amount
- For external proposals with a total budget between $10,000-$50,000:
  - $1,000 toward additional employment salary or professional development funds
- For external proposals with a total budget above $50,000:
  - $2,500 toward additional employment salary or professional development funds

External proposals requesting under $10,000 are not eligible for the IDEA program.

Funds for a collaborative submission involving more than one faculty from Sacramento State will be divided evenly among the co-applicants.

Funds will be awarded after submission of the external grant proposal and is contingent on fulfilling the requirement to work with ORIED throughout the process of developing the narrative and technical aspects of the external proposal, including allowing time for substantive review and incorporation of feedback.

Requirements
Recipients must commit to working with ORIED throughout the development of a competitive proposal for external funding, including the narrative and technical components. Note: If a funding opportunity is later determined not to be an appropriate fit for the proposed project, the recipient will need to identify an alternative funding source and reapply.

Announcements
Awards will be announced near May 28, 2021.

The next anticipated IDEA competition will be held in Fall 2021, for external proposals submitted between February 1, 2022 and July 31, 2022.

Resources
Resources for identifying potential external sources of grant support for research and scholarly activities, including links to the Pivot funding database and the Grants Resource Center’s GrantSearch, are available on the ORIED website.
Pivot is a comprehensive database of funding opportunities from federal, non-federal, foundation, and other private sponsors for all disciplines and project types. Pivot allows users to search for a funding opportunity while also instantly being able to identify researchers with similar interests and expertise.

GrantSearch contains over 1,500 funding opportunities that support academic activities such as research, education, training, fellowships, program or curriculum development, and/or equipment acquisition. Most programs in GrantSearch are cyclical (funded every year) and the database excludes solicitations that are limited to a specific region, that make fewer than three awards annually, and for which higher education institutions are not eligible to apply or partner. For the login info to access GrantSearch, email research@csus.edu.

IDEA Spring 2021 – Frequently Asked Questions

Q1. Are IDEA awards only offered for new project proposals or will proposal resubmissions be considered?
An IDEA application may be submitted for a new proposal, a renewal, or a resubmission. However, past incentive award recipients may not reapply until they have received notification from the funder on the outcome of that submission.

Q2. When should I contact a program officer?
Applicants should contact a program officer at their targeted external funding agency to determine funding fit as early as possible to better ensure a response before the IDEA program deadline.

Q3. What if my external funding program has an open deadline or a deadline yet to be determined?
IDEA applications must have a submission deadline between August 1, 2021 and January 31, 2022. Proposals to programs with open deadlines must target a submission date within this window. For questions related to proposal submissions with a deadline yet to be determined, please contact ORIED at oried@csus.edu.

Q4. May collaborative projects be submitted?
Yes, however Sacramento State must be the lead applicant and only the Sacramento State faculty PI/Co-PIs will receive IDEA funding.

Q5. May I submit an IDEA application for a subaward?
No, applications must be submitted by PIs from Sacramento State as the project lead.

Q6. How is additional employment awarded?
Additional employment is processed by using job code 2403. Payroll taxes and other deductions are withheld and is subject to the limits as outlined in Article 36 of the Unit 3 CSU Bargaining Agreement.
