

Gratitude Log

YOU give us a reason to practice gratitude every day. This daily practice has been linked to feeling more positive emotions, improving health, overcoming adversity, and building strong relationships. So, take a moment, write in some things you're grateful for, and acknowledge the network of good that you are helping to build.

I am grateful for...