Special Requirements

As a result of the Covid-19 pandemic, faculty have experienced significant changes to the delivery of instruction due to the coronavirus. To help mitigate these impacts, we are hiring additional Graduate Assistants to support instruction impacted by the coronavirus; these GA positions will provide support for faculty members to deliver instruction due to changes related to the coronavirus.

We have amended our modes of instruction due to Covid-19 to the following modes of instruction that will be supported by Covid-ASE / Unit 11 hires:

HerkyFlex - Enables students to choose between two modes of instruction, in-person, or synchronous online. This is a modification of the HyFlex format. Each class section and learning activity will be offered in-person in an on-campus classroom and simultaneously online. All instruction takes place at a pre-determined scheduled time.

HyFlex - Enables students to choose between three modes of instruction, in person, online synchronous, or online asynchronous. Students have a choice about how they will engage in their learning: they can choose to attend the real-time on-campus class session, attend the real-time class session via Zoom, or they can choose to take the class fully asynchronously. Ideally, students are able to choose which format they prefer for each scheduled class session.

Blended – Course includes In-Person AND Synchronous Online meeting times required.

Hybrid - Meets partially online and partially in person. Some class meetings are held in person as scheduled and the remainder of the class is conducted online synchronously or asynchronously. Refer to the course syllabus for details. Internet access required.

Synchronous (synch) - Meets in real time at designated scheduled meeting days and times.

Asynchronous (asynch) - Does not have designated scheduled meeting days and times. Students complete class activities and assignments as detailed in the course syllabus.
