

Dialogue in 'Dracula' (1931) (as pronounced by the Master)

First Scenes in Dracula's Castle in Transylvania

"I am...D r a c u l a." (rolls his r's)

"I bid you welllcome."

"Leesten is them. Cheeldren of the night. What music they make."

"The spider is spinning his web for the unwary fly. The blood is the life, Mr. Renfield."

"I am sure you will find this part of the castle...more invvitting."

"Excellent, Mr. Renfield. Excellent!"

"I am taking with me only three ..er.. BOXes."

"I have chartered a sheep ... to take us to Ennggland. We will be leavvvving...tomorrow... evvvenningg."

"Thees is ... very old wine. I hope ... you weell like it."

"Good night, Meester ... Renfield."

Later in the Film.

"Van Helsing. Most distinguished scientist, whose name we know even in the...wild...Transylvania."