

Two phishing attacks to watch out for

We're receiving reports and protecting compromised accounts due to a series of sophisticated phishing attacks being received by our campus community. These phishing emails may seem even more legitimate as they come from compromised or "spoofed" accounts - in other words, from a Sac State email account you may recognize.

Office 365 Phish

The message utilizes the Office 365 logo, with the false alert that "your account will be terminated" unless you "verify" your login credentials.

1. This message is not generated from Microsoft Office 365, or from IRT.
2. Do not click the link, and do not try to login if you accidentally did.
3. Report this message to abuse@csus.edu, or if you provided your login credentials, call the IRT Service Desk Team ASAP at 916-278-7337.

Urgency, grammatically incorrect, and threats - a classic phish!

"Job Opportunity" Phish

Like the recent "dog sitting" job opportunity phishing email, these attempt to trick you into providing your personal information and steal money from you under the guise of a "part-time job" opportunity. They will even try to legitimize this by calling or texting you.

1. Do not click any links, reply to this email, provide information, or complete any actions requested of you.
2. Report this message to abuse@csus.edu - or, if you've accidentally clicked on the link/replied, call the IRT Service Desk Team ASAP at 916-278-7337.

You know the saying - if it sounds too good to be true, it probably (and in this case), is .

Protecting your Hornet Family

Phishing attacks try to steal your identity and your money. They can look very official, with familiar logos and messaging, and even appear to be from someone at Sac State. Learn tips to protect yourself and improve your 'phish finding' skills .

Phishing attacks can spread fast, but we can spread the word quickly, too - thanks for doing your part!
