

Student-Faculty Interaction, Effective Teaching Practices

This page displays feature findings for how often faculty have done with the undergraduate students they teach or advise (#10) and to what extent they do in their undergraduate courses (#12).

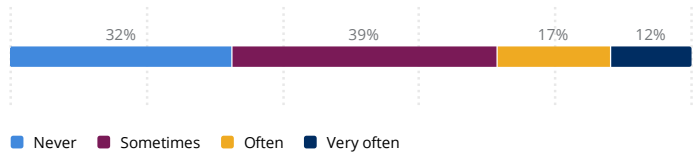

During the current school year, about how often have you done each of the following with the undergraduate students you teach or advise?

Response options: Very often, Often, Sometimes, Never

Talked about their career plans 108 ⓘ

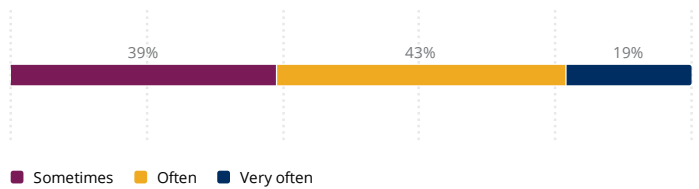

Worked on activities other than coursework (committees, student groups, etc.) 108 ⓘ

Discussed course topics, ideas, or concepts outside of class 108 ⓘ

Discussed their academic performance 108 ⓘ

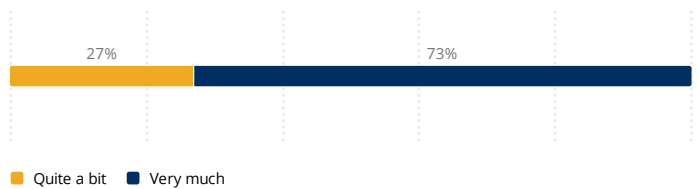

In your undergraduate courses, to what extent do you do the following?

Response options: Very much, Quite a bit, Some, Very little

Clearly explain course goals and requirements 108 ⓘ

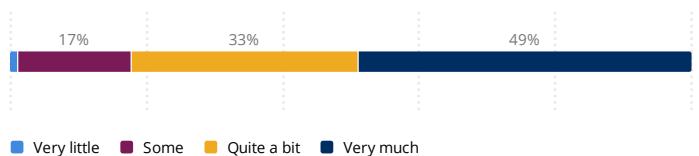

Teach course sessions in an organized way 108 ⓘ

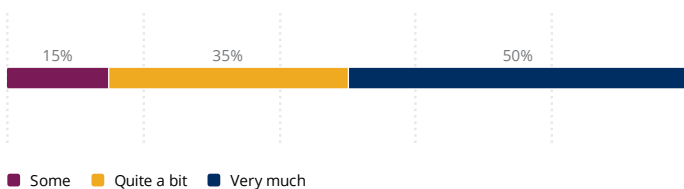

Use examples or illustrations to explain difficult points 108 ⓘ

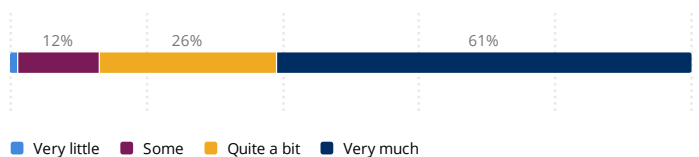

Use a variety of teaching techniques to accommodate diversity in student approaches to learning 108 ⓘ

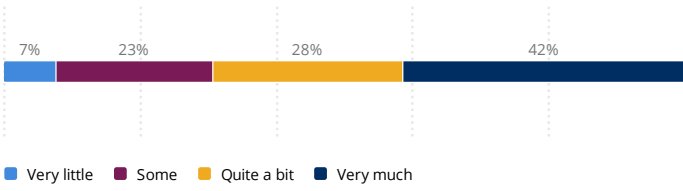

Review and summarize material for students 108 ⓘ

Provide standards for satisfactory completion of assignments (rubrics, detailed outlines, etc.) 108 ⓘ

Provide feedback to students on drafts or works in progress 108 ⓘ

Provide prompt and detailed feedback on tests or completed assignments 108 ⓘ

